Rethinking the Retail Strip
Transforming Old Uses to Meet New Needs
Suburban Retrofits | The MAPC region

Metro Boston needs to produce >400,000 housing units over the next 20 years. Where can this housing, along with additional needs for commercial space go?

See mapc.org/learn/projections for more info.
Strip malls (and related types of retail spaces) provide a great opportunity for redevelopment.

- Every community in the region has them.
- As single-story, single-use structures with abundant parking, they are often under-utilized. The changing nature of retail may exacerbate this aspect.
- Parcels are typically small enough that they can be redeveloped in a relatively short amount of time.
- Multiple contiguous parcels can be redeveloped incrementally to create cohesive neighborhoods over the long term.
- It can be easier politically to change uses and forms than single family districts.
Capacity Analysis

Based upon the analysis, MAPC estimates lots with strip malls in our region can accommodate approximately 270,000 housing units.* While clearly not every lot can or would be redeveloped, this figure nevertheless shows the potential for one way to help accommodate our growth needs on already developed lots.

*This estimate assumes all development will be mixed-use, thus retaining all existing commercial space. If only considering multi-family development, the capacity is 350,000.
Strip Malls | Suitability Analysis

For the final stage of analysis, MAPC performed a suitability analysis, which provides a relative ranking of which sites are best suited to redevelopment, based upon a variety of criteria. A higher score corresponds to a site with higher suitability.
Report Recommendations for Local Action

- Local Action: Bring retail retrofits into local planning conversations. This could involve reviewing the inventory to highlight or eliminate sites based on local knowledge, including them in a list of potential development sites, and considering their potential for growth.
- Local Action: Create a vision and a plan for redevelopment of retail sites.
- Local Action: Test strategies to promote small, local businesses.
- Local Action: Adopt zoning to enable retail retrofits.
- Local Action: Enact Transportation Demand Management (TDM) policies.
- Local Action: Invest in infrastructure to support development.
- Local Action: Take advantage of state funding.
Project Idea

- Explore: Investigate the opportunity Route 53 and portions of Route 139 presents on the South Shore.
- Engage: Connect with selected property owners with Town and Chamber support.
- Visualize: Identify Retail Strips to undertake visioning. Create illustrations of mixed uses, walkable neighborhoods.
- Leverage: Identify synergies with Section 3A districts if any in towns that overlap with retail strips.
